

June 1, 2022

Update: eIRB Services Interruption

Earlier today we sent an announcement about two issues with eIRB Services giving users trouble in accessing their studies and/or study documents. The first issue was related to users getting warnings that the website was unsecure. The second issue was related to users pushing past that, logging in, and then getting a "Website Not Found" error when accessing their studies and/or study documents.

We are pleased to announce that while ITS continues to work on the first issue, the second issue appears to have been resolved. We will continue to update the research community as we work closely with ITS to resolve the remaining issue.

University of California San Diego, 9500 Gilman Drive, La Jolla, CA, 92093

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Unsubscribe

This email was sent to .
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

UC San Diego

Subscribe to our email list.