

May 30, 2021

Changes Are Underway - Stay Informed!

This is a one-time mailing. You're receiving this as the Principal Investigator and/or Contact for a study reviewed in the past 3 years. Please sign up for future updates.

We are preparing to go live with the Kualii IRB system (July 7, 2021) and to roll out other exciting changes to our program over the coming months, including a new identity as the Office of IRB Administration (OIA)!

Instead of remembering to check the IRB website and the Kualii IRB project pages, subscribe now at the links below for delivery of updates to your inbox.

Kualii IRB Updates

A regular monthly newsletter about key Kualii IRB project updates, including notice about upcoming training opportunities. Closer to go-live we'll send a few extra messages. By the end of the year we'll merge this list into Human Research News and updates about Kualii IRB will be part of other news from our office.

Sign Up for Kualii IRB Updates

Human Research News

A new mailing list about changes to our process, policy updates and upcoming training opportunities. We're queueing up several big updates for the next 3 to 4 months. After that, we'll settle into a regular schedule of messages every 2 months with the occasional extra message when needed.

Sign Up for Human Research News

Need to Catch Up With Kualii IRB?

If you haven't kept up with the Kualii IRB rollout don't panic! July 7 will mark the start of a yearlong transition period.

Now is the time to catch up if you:

- Expect to submit new projects for review this summer, or
- Will need to renew existing projects that expire in September or October.

To catch up (once you've subscribed to the newsletters of course), take a quick look at both the Kualii IRB Project Page and the Kualii IRB Updates distributed so far.

This matrix breaks down when to use Kualii IRB and when to use the legacy e-IRB Services during the transition period.

If you won't be submitting new projects or renewals until this fall (or beyond), you can learn more now or check in with us later. Information and training will continue to be available after go-live.

University of California San Diego, 9500 Gilman Drive, La Jolla, CA, 92093

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Unsubscribe

This email was sent to .
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

UC San Diego

Subscribe to our email list.